

George Kassimis (he/him)

PHIL 101-741, Philosophical Perspectives

In-person office: Fontaine 304

Virtual Office: <https://marist-edu.zoom.us/j/3110823095>

Office Hours: by appointment

Email: george.kassimis@marist.edu

Course Materials and Texts: Will be provided as PDFs on iLearn

Hello! I am George Kassimis, a part-time instructor at Marist College since 2013. I am in my tenth year in the PhD program in philosophy at SUNY Albany, where I am in candidacy. My dissertation is on the philosophy of comedy. I received my BA in Philosophy at Marist in 2009, and my MA in Philosophy at Washington State University in 2012. I am based in Fishkill and NYC, but I did grow up in Poughkeepsie and my heart is at Marist. When I took this course as a Marist student in 2006, I received a C. However, I have taught this course many times since I started teaching, and it has always been proven to be interesting and eye-opening. I look forward to instructing these topics and having good discussion.