

Sara Schmitt, COO, Adro

Sara is the COO of Adro, a company designed for international students and workers that provides an onramp to financial services in the U.S.

She is a multi-talented person with a diverse background as an individual investor (angel), professor and academic advisor, female founder, and startup entrepreneur. Her expertise spans various fields including the immigrant and LGBTQIA+ experience, venture capital investment, strategy, marketing, operations, and technology. She is particularly interested in education, health IT, wellbeing, business to business (B2B) solutions and business to consumer (B2C) solutions.