Guest Speaker:
Travis Biro'19, Senior Product Manager, Ensono

Sales leader turned product manager, I try and sit as close to the folks I build products for as possible. At IBM I got to lead the z/OSMF product team and build a fantastic community of enthusiasts and advocates at the z/OSMF guild, as well as launch new functionality with a focus on user-experience. Now at Ensono I manage our portfolio of Mainframe Modernization add-ons, with a focus on security, identity/access management and compliance.

Most passionate about community building, I love to talk about how people are the most important part of any organization. Mid-Hudson Regional Business Plan Competition previous competitor and judge.
